Carmen Racy-Choy, Chief Investment Officer

Educational Background and Business Experience: Ms. Racy-Choy joined McMorgan in September 2012 as Chief Investment Officer; she assumed all investment responsibilities including the development of McMorgan's investment strategy and platform, monitoring our sub-advisors and overseeing managed accounts. Prior to joining McMorgan, she was the Chief Investment Officer for the City of San Jose Retirement Plans, where she managed $4.8 billion in assets. Prior to joining the City of San Jose, she was a Principal at Mercer Investment Consulting in Montreal, providing investment consulting services to endowments and pension plans. Her prior roles also include: an Actuary and Director in Risk Management/Finance for Sunlife Financial, Associate Actuary for Manulife Financial and Manager of Investment & Product Risk Management for NN Financial (ING Group).

Carmen graduated with a MBA from INSEAD and a B.S. in Actuarial Mathematics from Concordia University. She is a Fellow of both the Canadian Institute of Actuaries and the Society of Actuaries. She also holds a Chartered Alternative Investment Analyst designation.

Explanation of Professional Designation:

The Chartered Alternative Investment Analyst (CAIA) Charter is the globally recognized credential for professionals managing, analyzing, distributing, or regulating alternative investments. The CAIA Charter designation is the highest standard of achievement in alternative investment education and provides deep knowledge, demonstrated expertise, and global credibility in alternatives. Established in 2002, the CAIA Charter is a comprehensive program comprised of a two-tier exam process through which you may become a CAIA Charter Holder. The Level I exam assesses a candidate's understanding of various alternative asset classes and knowledge of the tools and techniques used to evaluate the risk-return attributes of each one. The Level II exam assesses how candidates would apply the knowledge and analytics learned in Level I within a portfolio management context. Both levels include segments on ethics and professional conduct.

To qualify, a candidate must pass both the CAIA Level I and Level II exams, hold a U.S. bachelor's degree or the equivalent, and have more than one year of professional experience or alternatively have at least four years of professional experience (professional experience is defined as full-time employment in a professional capacity within the regulatory, banking, financial, or related fields), submit payment for the annual CAIA Association membership fee and agree on an annual basis to abide by the Member Agreement.

Year of birth: 1970

Alex Kaye, CFA, Head of Research

Educational Background and Business Experience: Mr. Kaye joined McMorgan in 2014 as Head of Research, focusing on the firm's Managed Account Platform. Alex leads the firm's capital markets and tactical asset allocation research as well as manager research / due diligence on traditional and alternative asset managers. Alex is also responsible for the management and ongoing monitoring of client portfolios on the Managed Account Platform. Alex has over 20 years of experience in the asset management industry, including two years abroad in London, England. Prior to joining McMorgan, Alex was Head of Investment Consulting Solutions at Credit Suisse, and previous to that he was Head of Research at Cetera Financial Group. Alex also served as Senior Portfolio Manager at both Wilshire Associates and Ibbotson Associates, where he managed multi-disciplinary global asset allocation portfolios for financial intermediaries.

Alex earned a BBA in Finance and minor in Economics from the University of Iowa. He has earned the Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) designation and is a member of the CFA Institute and the CFA Society of San Francisco. Alex also holds the Series 7 and 66 licenses.

Explanation of Professional Designation:

The Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) charter is a globally respected, graduate-level investment credential established in 1962 and awarded by CFA Institute. To earn the CFA charter, candidates must: 1) pass three sequential, six-hour examinations; 2) have at least four years of qualified professional investment experience; 3) join CFA Institute as members; and 4) commit to abide by, and annually reaffirm, their adherence to the CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct.

The CFA Program curriculum provides a comprehensive framework of knowledge for investment decision making and is firmly grounded in the knowledge and skills used every day in the investment profession. The three levels of the CFA Program test a proficiency with a wide range of fundamental and advanced investment topics, including ethical and professional standards, fixed-income and equity analysis, alternative and derivative investments, economics, financial reporting standards, portfolio management, and wealth planning.
